DOMINIK HAAG

Chief Technology Officer (CTO), DOCUFY GmbH

Dominik Haag has been Chief Technology Officer at DOCUFY GmbH since May 2022. The graduated engineer (FH) in mechatronics began his career in 2002 as a software developer at KUKA Controls GmbH (now KUKA AG). There he took on project management tasks at an early stage and subsequently expanded his project and product management skills, particularly in an agile context, with stations at Navigon AG and Salzbrenner Media GmbH in international projects. Since 2016, he has been responsible for product development at DOCUFY as part of the management team and now continues this task in his role as CTO. Together with customers, he is shaping the future of the product and information landscape and supporting them in exploiting the potential of enterprise-wide information and making it available in a user-specific way.
